1 II. FACTS PERTAINING TO MOTION

2 Both defendants were charged by Indictment on August 5, 2020 with conspiracy to 7 relation to a drug trafficking crime in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 924(c)(1)(1). Id.

8 At the Defendants' arraignment, on August 20, 2020, the Court set the pretrial motions 9 deadline for September 10, 2020, and the trial for October 5, 2020. Dkt. Nos. 46–47. On 15 the Court entered an Order continuing the trial to January 25, 2021, the pretrial motions deadline

 23 trial to April 2021 and set a corresponding pretrial motions deadline.

1 The defendants and their counsel need additional time to prepare for trial as the 2 government has produced an extraordinary amount of discovery in this matter and the charges
3 they face are serious, potentially exposing them to 10-year mandatory minimum prison 4 sentences.

5 Defense counsel are working diligently to review the provided discovery, which 6 consists of over 341,000 pages, in addition to native files containing spreadsheets and video 7 recordings. Because Kenneth John Rhule remains incarcerated at the FDC SeaTac amid 8 COVID procedures and precautions, Mr. Rhule's access to the law library to review an 9 electronic copy of the discovery is limited. His counsel's ability to review this discovery with 10 him to prepare for trial or other resolution has therefore been constrained.

11 Based on these facts, it is the opinion of counsel that:

12 (1) taking into account the exercise of due diligence, the failure to grant a continuance 13 in this case would deny counsel for the defendant the reasonable time necessary for effective 14 preparation, due to counsel's need for more time to review the evidence, consider possible
15 defenses, and gather evidence material to the defense, as set forth in 18 U.S.C.
16 § 3161(h)(7)(B)(iv); and

17 (2) failure to grant such a continuance in this proceeding would likely result in a 18 miscarriage of justice, as set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(B)(i); and

19 (3) the additional time requested is a reasonable period of delay, as additional time is 20 needed to determine whether a resolution short of trial can be reached in this matter; and

21 (4) the case is sufficiently complex that it is unreasonable to expect adequate preparation 22 for pretrial proceedings or the trial itself, within the current trial schedule, as set forth in 18 23 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(B)(ii); and

1 (5) the ends of justice will best be served by a continuance, and that the ends of justice 2 outweigh the best interests of the public and the defendant in any speedier trial, as set forth in 3 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A); and

4 (6) the additional time requested between the current trial date of January 25, 2021, and 5 the new trial date in April is necessary to provide counsel for the defendants the reasonable time 6 necessary to prepare for trial, considering all of the facts set forth above.

7 III. DISCUSSION

8 Whether to grant a continuance is a matter committed to the sound discretion of the 9 Court. United States v. Flynt, 756 F.2d 1352, 1358–62 (9th Cir. 1985). “The concept of fairness, 10 implicit in the right to due process, may dictate that an accused be granted a continuance in 11 order to prepare an adequate defense.” United States v. Bogard, 846 F.2d 563, 566 (9th Cir.
 12 1988).

13 These principles are embodied in the Speedy Trial Act, 18 U.S.C. §§ 3161–3167, which 14 permits the Court to continue a trial if “the ends of justice served by taking such action outweigh 15 the best interest of the public and the defendant in a speed[ier] trial.” 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A).
 16 In making this determination, the Court is permitted to consider both whether the failure to 17 grant such a continuance would “unreasonably deny the defendant or the Government 18 continuity of counsel” and whether such failure would deny counsel “the reasonable time 19 necessary for effective preparation, taking into account the exercise of due diligence.” 18 U.S.C.
 20 § 3161(h)(7)(B)(iv). These factors apply to this case.

1 IV. CONCLUSION

2 The parties respectfully request that the Court continue the pretrial motions deadline
3 and the trial to a date convenient for the Court's schedule in April 2021.

4 Dated this 12th day of November, 2020.
